

WITH all that has been said of Senator William M. Stewart, Nevada never had a more energetic worker in the halls of Congress, nor one more indefatigable in pushing the interests of the people of the state which he has the honor to represent in the United States Senate. That he is ever ready to heed the demands of his constituents is again demonstrated in the case of complaints as to the mail service in White Pine county. In answer to a letter from Hon. R. A. Riepe, of Ely, Senator Stewart writes as follows:

"As you say a petition will be sent to me from citizens of White Pine county praying for mail service between Ely and Cherry Creek, I believe it to be better for me to delay taking any steps until I receive the petition. I can then make my argument much more forcible. If you have not yet mailed the petition by the time you receive this, I would advise you to make it as strong as possible and get as many signatures to it as you can. The earlier you send the petition the better. The mail service in eastern Nevada, and particularly in White Pine county, is in a deplorable condition, and I shall do all I can to secure better facilities for you."

There is much consolation to be derived from a knowledge of the fact that a petition, sent to Senator Stewart praying for a redress of grievances, or for any legislative action in the interest of the people of Nevada, will receive due consideration, and that we can count on his hearty co-operation in any measure which will redound to the welfare of the people of Nevada. Senator Stewart is faithful to the interests of the citizens of the Sage brush State.—Elko Daily Independent.

THE State Board of Immigration can do a great deal toward advertising the resources of Nevada, if it will only adopt the suggestion of Hugh Mohan, and see that every railway train passing through the State, in any direction, is well supplied with circulars and pamphlets setting forth the actual advantages of the country. By thus placing in the hands of the public facts relative to Nevada lands, and the opportunities offered to settlers, land purchasers, stock raisers and miners, people seeking homes and investments will be induced to at least investigate the facts thus presented. If the eye and ear of the traveling public can once be caught for even a few minutes, it will go a long way toward getting the State and its resources known beyond its own borders. In no other state in the Union are presented more favorable conditions for all classes to invest, and if the proper advertising is done there is no reason why attention cannot be called to Nevada, and its desirability as a place of residence and investment made manifest to every one. Other and less favored states have done this, and did it by thorough advertising. Printers' ink and paper are cheap, and an abundant and judicious use of them in this matter, will produce results that will not only astonish the Board of Immigration, but will be of great permanent value and advantage to the whole state.

THE New York Herald, Democratic, candidly acknowledges the strength of the Republican party and its wealth of candidates, in the following language:

It would be folly as trivial as that in "A Midsummer Night's Dream" not to recognize the unusual number of gifted men eligible for a Republican nomination—men of merit and approved services. There is the illustrious Sheridan, whose name no American, whatever his party, can hear without the joy inspired by the history of glorious deeds. New England offers Hoar, Reed, Hale, Hawley; New York, Conkling, Depew, Evans, Curtis, Hendricks; New Jersey, Phelps; Pennsylvania, Cameron, Kelley, Hartranft, Childs, Harrison, Gresham; Illinois, Lincoln, Cullom; Iowa, Allison; California, Stanford—names representing every phase of national thought and achievement. And from this list ten could be selected, any one of whom would harmonize every interest possible in Republican action, and three, at least, who would awaken something of the enthusiasm which elected Lincoln a generation ago. It is in prudence for the Democratic leaders to look well into this situation—to consider the eternal verities of politics. There is to be no hard cider, corn skin, log cabin, domestic felicity business in electing a Democratic President—no Democratic triumph by default. It is to be fighting from the first plank fire.

A REPORT made by Professor Casaday of the Colorado State Agricultural College at Fort Collins, on tobacco growing in that State, is important. Tests have been made and give most satisfactory results. Fifteen varieties were grown last season, and all ripened before the end of August.

Cleveland and the Chinese Treaty—An Apache Indian's Little Joke.

A MESSAGE.

Cleveland Sends One in Regard to the Chinese Treaty.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The President to-day sent to the Senate the following message:

To the Senate: A copy of the following resolution, passed by the Senate on the first day of the present month, was delivered to me on the third instant:

Resolved, That, in view of the difficulties and embarrassment that have attended the regulation in immigration of Chinese to the United States under the limitations of our treaties with China, the President of the United States be requested to negotiate a treaty with the Emperor of China, containing a provision that no Chinese laborer shall enter the United States.

The importance of the subject referred to in this resolution has by no means overlooked by the executive branch of the government, changed under the constitution with the formulation of treaties with foreign countries. Negotiations with the Emperor of China for a treaty such as is mentioned in said resolution were commenced many months ago and have been since continued. The progress of the negotiations thus inaugurated has heretofore been freely communicated to such members of the Senate and its Committee on Foreign Relations as sought information concerning the same. It is, however, with much gratification that I deem myself justified in expressing to the Senate, in response to its resolution, a hope and expectation that the treaty will soon be concluded concerning the immigration of Chinese laborers, which will meet the wants of our people and the approbation of the body to which it will be submitted for confirmation.

GROVER CLEVELAND.
Executive Mansion, March 8, 1888.

A RADICAL MOVE.

The Burlington Road Carries Its Grievances Into Court.

CHICAGO, March 9.—The Chicago, Burlington & Quincy railroad appealed to Judge Gresham this morning for an order requiring the Wabash receiver appointed by the court, and his agents and officers, and employees, to perform their duties as public carriers as well as the tariff with such petitioners, and also for an order restraining the association commonly called the Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers, and especially one A. M. Arrington, its chief executive officer, from in any way giving any orders to engineers in the employ of the receiver.

The road also asked for an order to punish Chief Arrington for contempt of court in unlawfully interfering with the administration of the property in the custody of the court in this case. The court ordered the petition, together with affidavits and papers filed, and the petition was set for hearing to-day.

WILLING TO ARBITRATE.

The Brotherhood issued a long statement to-night setting forth once more their position and that of the company, saying they are ready and willing, and always have been willing, to arbitrate the questions in dispute in any manner decided upon. They ask if more can be expected of them. They say in conclusion that the Brotherhood cannot recede from their demand on the wages question and maintain their self-respect as an organization. On this point they must win or die.

The officials of the Burlington road claim that their business is improving right along. To-day they began transporting live stock for the first time since the strike was inaugurated. Their passenger trains, they say, are in good shape.

ANGLING FOR OREGON.

The Commission the President Has Given John P. Irish.

WASHINGTON, March 9.—The Democrats have determined to make a desperate effort to carry Oregon at the June election. The election takes place June 5th—the same day the Democratic Convention meets in St. Louis—and it is said that Cleveland is extremely anxious to have a Democratic victory telegraphed to St. Louis that evening.

APACHE HUMOR.

A San Carlos Brave Tries a Little Joke on Cleveland.

WASHINGTON, March 7.—Six Apache Indians from the San Carlos Reservation, accompanied by an interpreter, called on the President to-day. They had a pleasant talk with the President, and one of the visitors, at the end of the interview pulled a gaudily-decorated doll from his pocket and handed it to Cleveland, at the same time telling him (through the interpreter) that, as he understood the Great Father had no children, he would like him to accept the gift. The President laughed when the Indian's speech was translated, but he declined to accept the doll, and returned it to the giver, apparently much to his disgust.

Both Hit Their Mark.

SACRAMENTO, March 8.—This morning about 5 o'clock Constable C. P. Henaley, of Isleton, and George W. Holland, a resident of the same town, engaged in a shooting scrape on the steamer Pride of the River, just as the boat was approaching the Sacramento landing. Henaley was shot in the left breast and Holland in the right breast, and both were seriously wounded.

Five shots were fired. The shooting grew out of an old feud, and both men had been drinking. Both were arrested.

A Display of Rebel Flags.
JACKSON, Miss., March 6.—The Senate bill appropriating $100,000 for a monument to Confederate soldiers was the special order of the House to-night. Among the decorations for the occasion were many war emblems that had evidently been in service. The tattered flag of the Third Mississippi Volunteer, captured by the Ninth Connecticut Volunteers, and returned by them at New Orleans on February 25, 1865, stood unfurled over the speaker's desk, and just under it was a portrait of Jefferson Davis. Notwithstanding the display was made to arouse the enthusiasm of members, the bill was lost by a vote of 50 to 42.

Senator Stewart Makes a Speech.
WASHINGTON, March 9.—Senator Stewart delivered a speech in the Senate this afternoon on his Coin Certificate bill. His speech, which was of great length, gave an interesting history of money and the effect which contraction and expansion have had respectively upon the principal nations of the world. He claimed that contraction always caused hard times, and plenty of money produced prosperity. He strongly urged an increased amount of circulating medium, based upon silver.

Death on the Rail.
SALT LAKE, March 8.—Robert Stewart, a brakeman on the Utah Central railway, while engaged in coupling box-cars yesterday, in stepping from between the cars, caught his left foot in the frog and was unable to extricate himself. He was thrown to the track, the wheels passing over him and crushing his left leg and arm to a jelly. He was removed to the hospital where he died.

Preparing to Celebrate.
WASHINGTON, March 9.—Among the bills reported and placed on the Senate calendar was the following: To provide for a public celebration at the National Capitol by the sixteen American republics in honor of the centennial of the parent republic—the United States.

The Advance Guard.

A family of twelve Germans reached this city yesterday, says the Appeal, bound for the upper end of Carson valley, where they have relatives. They propose to begin ranching in Nevada, and brought along plenty of equipment to try in this climate. They are looked upon as the advance guard of more German immigration.

ARBOR DAY.

Varieties of Trees Best Adapted for Planting in Nevada.

John Wood, a Carson arborist, makes the following timely suggestions about the varieties of trees which are best adapted to Nevada's soil and climate, and should be heeded in the Arbor Day tree planting:

Fruit Trees—A red June apple tree is covered with blossoms in the spring and bright red apples in July, and the red Astrakhan is ripe in one or two months later. Skinner's pippins, good for eating, drying or cooking, is a large yellow apple, and grows in a bears well in Nevada in September. Rome beauty, a large yellow and red, Rosa Lewers informs us is the most profitable in Nevada from December to February. The Baldwin, Rhode Island greening and yellow Bellflower from February to April. The last three kinds are shipped to England. Green gage plum and prune do well. England Murella, May Duke and early Richmond cherries do well. The early Crawford peach does well in Dayton and Silver City.

Ornamental—Linden, with its leaves from six to nine inches long. Weeping elm, large leaves and handsome. Weeping birch, very fine. Locust, flowering from May till September. Horse chestnut, red flowers. The royal oak of England, fast grower. Burr oak has a grand appearance. Norway spruce, John Hopper is the best rose for Nevada.

General Jacqueminot, scarlet and attractive.

Climbing roses—Baltimore belle, climbing roses, and parrot queen. Directions for planting—Dig a hole three feet deep and three feet across. Put a layer of loose manure in the bottom then a layer of earth, and so on until you come within one foot of the top. Dig the holes right away and be ready.

PLUTE MEDICINE MEN.

Method of Treating Patients—Penalty for Failing to Cure.

The following description of how patients are treated by Plute medicine men is from the Emerald News:

The patient was a half-grown pauper. When the visitor entered the wickup the patient was lying on a rabbit-skin robe. The medicine man was kneeling near the pauper and between him and the patient a large arrow was stuck in the ground. The medicine man had four assistants sitting in a semi-circle on his right. The medicine man kept up a continuous diabolical howling in which his quartette of assistants joined at intervals.

After chanting the medicine man arose to his feet and walked around a small fire in the center of the inclosure seven times, chanting and besting time with a bunch of "deer nails" tied with string to the end of a round stick, and which is used as a charm to keep evil spirits away. With a wild yell he again dropped on his knees, bared the pauper's chest and began sucking its navel for about five minutes. During that process his four assistants kept up a continual howling. The medicine man again arose to his feet, walked around the fire while a noise was heard in his throat as if in the act of spitting. The above process is continued until the patients recover or "croak." For every cure effected the medicine man receives three dollars. If three consecutive patients die under his treatment he is roasted to death.

The Campbell Concert Company.

The concert to be given at the Nevada theater on the 14th instant by the Campbell Concert Company will afford our music-loving people an opportunity to see and hear one of the best organized troupes now on the road. Signor Campbell has a world-wide reputation as a vocalist of great merit, and the Jordan sisters are known everywhere on the Pacific Coast as musicians of rare versatility. Of Mr. James Owens, but little is known in Nevada, but the critics of the San Francisco press united in praising him whenever he has appeared there. Of Mrs. Eleanor Lewis, the soprano of the company, it is said she possesses a pure and even voice of great flexibility and she has perfect command of it in a full compass. Wherever the company has appeared they have been greeted by good audiences, and the Stockton Advertiser of the 4th instant, in a very laudatory article, says "every number of the pleasing programme received earnest applause, and every number was encored." Reserved seats at Davis' cigar store, Commercial Row.

The Golden Eagle.

Among the many handsome buildings of Reno the Golden Eagle hotel on Sierra street is among the first in the list. An addition has recently been added, giving eight rooms, all of which are elegantly furnished, and most of them are now occupied by steady boarders. The past of the Golden Eagle has been a remarkably successful one, and the future bids fair to eclipse it, if that be possible.

Suicide of a Squaw.

The squaw who had both legs cut off by being run over by a V. & T. railroad train, near Lake View, about two years ago, committed suicide at the Indian campsite west of Carson Wednesday by taking a dose of poison, supposed to be wild parley. It is presumed that she was driven to the act by being neglected and left to starve by her Indian companions.

Punctuated Puzzle.

The following punctuation puzzle is going the rounds of the press. When properly punctuated it makes good sense. "H. Moses was the son of Pharoah's daughter then he was the daughter of Pharoah's son."

NEVADA CLIMATE.

A Haven of Rest and Health for the One-Lung Tourist.

Dan DeQuille is a weekly contributor to the Salt Lake Tribune and hardly a week passes that he does not put in a good word for Nevada. In his last letter he has the following to say concerning Nevada as a sanitarium:

"Glorious climate," that standing boast of Los Angeles is an indigenous production of Nevada. It is sometimes "under a cloud" for a day or two, but not often. In the whole 365 days of the year there are not ten days in which the sun fails to shine for a time, if for only an hour or two. Wholly cloudy days are almost unknown. In the morning and evening the breeze from the desert is pure and invigorating. Persons suffering from affections of the respiratory organs, either pulmonary or bronchial, to become desert-dwellers. The Press particularly recommends Nevada desert. The objects to be attained by living in a desert are pure air and sunshine—nothing else. Now, these being the sole objects, there is not the slightest occasion for an invalid to hermit-like make his home on a desert. In Nevada—indeed, almost everywhere in the Great Basin region—may be enjoyed the most constant sunshine with not a square rod of malarial ground within five hundred miles. To go into the Mohave desert, or any other desert is wholly unnecessary. Plenty of beautiful valleys at an elevation of from 3,000 to 5,000 feet above the level of the sea may be found where there is just as much sunshine and just as little malaria as in the Mohave desert. The Mohave desert is merely the present California view of the situation. It is beginning to be very apparent to both people of the East and those of California, that consumptive persons derive no benefit from settling in any of the seaside health resorts. The increased death roll of California since the rush of men and women of "one lung" to that state shows this. It is useless for the people of the coast to fly to the malarious New England States to California and settle down in moist and foggy sea-coast towns. The Californians now see this and recommend the Mohave desert.

Let the people who become sick beside the sea and at the level of the sea to the mountains of the interior. As most of our valleys lie at an altitude of from 3,000 to 5,000 feet above the level of the sea, to live in them would be to most of the eastern invalids the equivalent of dwelling on a mountain top in their old homes; though here they could have a lighter atmosphere and an abundance of warm sunshine. In Nevada the invalid may choose his own altitude. He may begin his journey at 3,000 feet at the mouth of the Rio Virgin at the south line of the state and traveling from valley to valley northward he may increase this altitude to six or even eight thousand feet, and at the level of the sea, and all the time be in a land of sunshine and pure air. In all the Great Basin region there is not a germ of disease in a square mile of the atmosphere, unless it be of man's own making in some dirty little town where the people give no labor to either sewers or water closets but trust all to the mercy of the Lord.

Finger as Well as Bill.

It appears that R. J. Hiland, the smooth Ephraim who victimized his friends by means of the check game, is guilty of a greater criminal offense than that of obtaining money by false pretenses. It is now alleged that in order "to raise the wind" he produced a check, bearing the signature of his brother, well known business man in San Francisco, and induced one of his victims to endorse it. This done, he presented the check at the First National Bank, and it was promptly cashed. His deluded friends are confident that they will not be losers in the end, as his brother will no doubt pay the amount rather than have him undergo a criminal prosecution. Every effort is being made to apprehend Hiland, but thus far he has completely hidden himself, and the idea now prevails that he is still in town. All trains are closely watched, and his capture is only a question of time.

Manhattan Jockey Club.

All members of the Manhattan Jockey Club are requested to meet at their clubrooms on Saturday evening, at eight o'clock sharp, for the purpose of arranging for the great trotting race, to come off over the Reno race track on the afternoon of April 20, 1908. A number of celebrated flyers have already been entered for the race, and any person who owns a horse that he thinks can just "get up and git," can enter for this race under the following conditions: 1st, his horse must trot faster than a mile in seven minutes or he will certainly be beaten, and any horse that can or does beat 2:56 is barred out. By order of the speaker.

SMITH J. HILL, Secretary.

A Miraculous Escape.

The east-bound passenger train known as the "overland flyer" was wrecked at Otega, a small station a short distance east of Wells, about 12 o'clock Wednesday night. The trouble was caused by a broken rail, and three sleeping-cars were thrown from the track and badly wrecked, but fortunately, although there were quite a number of passengers aboard, no one was killed, or seriously injured. The cars were so damaged that they were unfit for further use, and the escape of the passengers is looked upon as something miraculous. All west-bound trains were delayed from eight to ten hours, the first west-bound train since the accident arriving here this morning.

It is no idle boast to say that Reno's population would be increased in the next three months by at least fifty families if houses could be had. As it is, there is not a small cottage or house in the town vacant.

The residence of Mrs. Vincent Elliott, at No. 142 South F street, Virginia City, was ransacked by burglars Wednesday night from basement to garret, but the thieves were frightened off by the return of the family, leaving their booty behind them.

Justice Young today sentenced Frank Waggoner, a German vagrant, to ten days imprisonment for being drunk and disorderly. Mr. Waggoner made himself quite obnoxious to the community by loudly proclaiming that he was a fool to temperance and importuning people for the price of a drink.

"Nudge" Mars, an old resident of Carson, returned from San Diego this morning completely cured of the "boom" fever which seized him last year. He had a desperate attack, but a residence of a few months in the over-rated section effected a complete cure, and he now returns to Nevada with a determination "to stay with the pot."

On the 7th instant—the feast of St. Thomas of Aquino—the graduating classes of 1888 of Mt. St. Mary's Academy enjoyed a "bus ride" through the valley. The trip was thoroughly enjoyed by all, and the young ladies are profuse in their praise of the good mother who so generously allowed them to so pleasantly celebrate the day of the good saint.

Quarantined sheepmen.
 The sheepmen of Lassen county, California, are dissatisfied with the ordinance recently passed imposing a license tax on sheep. They say each sheepman in the county will be compelled to pay a total tax of eleven cents a head—four cents tax and two cents license in Lassen and five cents in Plumas county, where most of the sheep are driven in the summer months.

THROUGH THE FOREST.

The Old and Young Danced All Night—Our Hardy Ancestors.

Old men live in the past.

Perhaps it would be better for the young men of the present, if they lived a little bit more in the past, and drew less on the future.

Log cabins of primitive times would seem very cheerless habitations to the people who live in the finely constructed, furance heated mansions of to-day. But our grandparents took a great deal of comfort in these rude homes.

They were rugged and healthy. The men had stalwart and hardy frames, and the women were free from the modern ailments that make the sex of to-day practically helpless slaves to hired foreign help.

White-haired grand-airs frequently took their life partners and on horseback rode a score of miles through the forests to enjoy the lively pleasures of a frontier ball, danced till daylight, rode home again in the early morning, then put in a good day's work.

Middle-aged folks of to-day couldn't stand that sort of a racket.

To these mud-chinked log cabins doctors' visits were a rarity. The inhabitants lived to a rugged and green old age.

Sometimes these log cabin old-timers were taken ill. They were not proof against all the exposures to which they were subjected. They found the effective remedies for these common ailments in the roots and herbs which grew in the neighboring forests and fields. They had learned that nature has a cure for every ill. These potent remedies assisted their sturdy frames to quickly throw off disease and left no poison in the system.

The unpleasant feature of modern practice with mineral medicines is the injurious after effect on the system. May not modern physical degeneracy be due to this feature?

A drug-saturated system is not in a natural, consequently not in a healthy, state. If any of the main organs are clogged with traces of the mineral poisons used to drive out a particular disease, the whole machinery of life is deranged and early decay of natural powers is the inevitable result.

There can be no question that remedies from the laboratory of nature are the best. If they are as efficacious, they have the advantage of leaving no after sting.

Their efficacy, if properly compounded, and the proper remedy applied to the proper disease, will not be doubted. The experience of ages proves it.

Their disease has come about principally through the rapid congregation of people in cities and villages, rendering these natural remedies difficult to obtain. Progressive business enterprise has lately led to putting these old time remedies within reach of all classes.

The proprietors of Warner's safe remedies, in the faith that the people of to-day would be benefited by using the simple remedies of log cabin days, have caused investigations to be made and secured the formulas of a number of those which long and successful use had proved to be most valuable.

They will, we learn, be known under the general title of "Warner's Log Cabin Remedies." Among these medicines will be a "Sarsaparilla" for the blood and liver, "Log Cabin Cough Remedy," "Log Cabin Cough and Consumption Remedy," a remedy called "Scalpin," for the hair, "Log Cabin Extract," for internal and external use, and an old valuable discovery for catarrh called "Log Cabin Rose Cream." Among the list is also a "Log Cabin Plaster" and a "Log Cabin Liver Pill."
